

9500 SERIES CUTTING TORCH

The CONCOA 9500 Series cutting torch is designed for use with all fuel gases. The triangular tube construction offers superior strength and rigidity with the ability to extend up to 72 inches (6 ft). The extra torch length provides greater reach in heavy-duty metal applications such as scrapping and skeleton cut-up and removal without awkward stretching or bending. Longer torches are also handy for cutting items high above, like on a ceiling, without having to climb a ladder. CONCOA 9500 Series cutting torch provides maximum strength, performance, and service life to live up to the most demanding industrial applications.
